

ALERT – ORGANIZED CRIME – ALERT

Police are asking all visitors to downtown Albuquerque to be on the lookout for a tough new gang that targets unsuspecting tourists.

Mayor Martin Chavez warns that the gang usually uses four members at a time. Three younger ones distract the victim by pretending to be playful and fun. The fourth gangster, obviously much older, then sneaks up from behind and goes through the bags for any valuables.

The photo below, taken from FBI files, shows the gang in action.

Be careful out there...
